The old Methodist Episcopal (as it then was) church on East Avenue suggests the denomination's Welsh and English roots. This building is now home to Rehoboth Deliverance Ministries. (HPL.)

Temple Beth-El dedicated its edifice in 1947. Jewish presence in Hornell predates the Civil War, but efforts to create a formal congregation were intermittent throughout the 19th century.