ALFRED — John Hunter, president of Alfred State College of Technology, has announced that six Greek social fraternities and sororities are currently chartered and officially recognized by the college. They are: Gamma Theta Gamma, Psi Delta Omega, and Pi Rho Zeta fraternities, and Alpha Beta Chi, Delta Chi Omega, and Pi Nu Epsilon sororities.

“These organizations have met all the requirements under the Greek constitution and are in good standing at the college,” said Hunter. “I hope they all have a good pledge season, and I look forward to working with them during the year to strengthen the Greek community and its relations with the college.”

Under new rules of Greek governance, informal rush parties may be conducted to begin pledging activities. The Greek constitution and by-laws were revised last year following recommendations of a Presidential Task Force on Greek Governance in the spring of 1991. A Greek Code of Conduct has also been recently approved.

Hunter also announced that new faculty advisers have been appointed for some of the fraternities and sororities. Also, Roger Hailstork, staff assistant for multicultural affairs, and John Herbert, residence hall director, will serve as principal advisers to the Greek Senate.

“I am very pleased to see the willingness of new faculty and staff members to step forward. Together with veteran faculty members, they will help to establish a solid bridge of understanding. But we also depend on Greek student leaders themselves. I have a lot of faith in their leadership ability, and I know these recognized organizations want to be a firm part of the college community,” said Hunter.
