Theta Gamma

The law of worthy life is fundamentally the law of strife; it is only by labor and painstaking effort, by grim energy and resolute courage that we can move on to better things. So in conformance with man's age-old tendency to form into groups rather than to isolate himself from his fellows, our fraternity, an outgrowth of the old Bachelors and K. of A. Clubs, was formed and granted a charter as the Gamma Chapter of the Theta Gamma Fraternity on March 19th last. During the short year of its existence, everyone who has had the privilege of becoming a member has deemed the experience one of the determining factors in the success of his past year. Here, acted upon by that powerful force, genial good-fellowship, all gradually—yet without loss of individualism—fused into a harmonious whole with common purposes and interests.

* Thus, according to the testimony of all its members, the Theta Gamma has succeeded in fulfilling its economic, educative and social functions. To continue in this manner, taking advantage of all opportunities for greater usefulness, is its determination for the future, whose work has been so well begun.

On March 17, 1920, a band of seventeen men met and founded the Gamma Chapter of Theta Gamma Fraternity. The leader of this band was Conte Searles. The task which lay before them was a laborious one, but the faith in Theta Gamma with which they were inspired, urged them to carry on the good work, and their perseverance has been well rewarded.

The history of the Fraternity during the six years following its founding bears witness to a most prosperous growth. In studies as well as in athletics, Theta Gamma men have set a worthy example for those who follow.

High ideals and brotherly love have been strongly promoted during the growth of Theta Gamma. The motto of the organization is to strive to keep alive the spirit of the Fraternity and to leave behind noble thoughts of inspiration.
